

Fitch Revisa Calificaciones de Bogotá, Distrito Capital de Colombia, y del Municipio de Medellín

Fitch Ratings - Monterrey, (Marzo 15, 2017): Fitch Ratings ratificó las calificaciones internacionales de Bogotá, Distrito Capital de Colombia, y del Municipio de Medellín. Las acciones de calificación son las siguientes:

- Calificación Issuer Default Rating (IDR) a Largo Plazo en Moneda Extranjera se ratifica en 'BBB';
- Calificación IDR a Largo Plazo en Moneda Local se ratifica en 'BBB'.

La Perspectiva Crediticia se modifica a Estable desde Negativa.

Adicionalmente para Bogotá Fitch ratifica:

- USD300 millones, 9.75% en pesos colombianos las notas de gobierno con vencimiento en 2028 en 'BBB'.

FACTORES CLAVE DE LAS CALIFICACIONES

La acción de calificación está en línea con la acción de calificación del soberano tomada por Fitch el 10 de marzo de 2017.

El cambio en la Perspectiva Estable para Bogotá y Medellín refleja la revisión reciente de la Perspectiva de Calificación de Colombia a Estable. La Perspectiva Estable de Colombia refleja la reducción en los desequilibrios macroeconómicos como resultado de una disminución importante en el déficit de cuenta corriente, riesgos menores relacionados con la consolidación fiscal del país ante la aprobación de la reforma tributaria de diciembre de 2016 y la expectativa de que la inflación converja a la meta fijada por el banco central. Las políticas de disciplina implementadas ante la caída en los precios de las materias primas permitirán mantener los desequilibrios macroeconómicos en línea con lo esperado para el período.

Las fortalezas de Bogotá y Medellín se mantienen.

Bogotá ha presentado solidez operativa y niveles manejables de endeudamiento, incluyendo el incremento significativo de deuda para cubrir su Plan de Desarrollo. La importancia de la entidad para la economía nacional en términos de su contribución al PIB, y sus indicadores socioeconómicos elevados, son considerados como factores positivos. Asimismo, se considera el riesgo político asociado al sector público y la calidad de la gestión de las administraciones. Fitch encuentra como limitante en la calificación el requerimiento elevado de inversión social y de infraestructura, particularmente los relacionados con transporte.

Medellín tiene un rol relevante en la economía nacional, con un dinamismo elevado en la recaudación de impuestos y un nivel alto de caja. Esto es compatible con una administración financiera buena. Otra fortaleza es el respaldo económico importante de los excedentes financieros de las Empresas Públicas de Medellín. Los riesgos o limitaciones principales para Medellín son su deuda manejable, pero mayor en relación con los registros históricos, el riesgo político asociado con el sector público y la calidad de la administración, y sus necesidades elevadas de infraestructura.

SENSIBILIDAD DE LAS CALIFICACIONES

La Perspectiva del emisor es Estable. De acuerdo con el análisis de sensibilidad Fitch no espera eventos que podrían derivar en una acción de calificación.

Un incremento en la calificación del soberano, aunado a un desempeño operativo sólido de Bogotá y Medellín, podría impactar de manera positiva sus calificaciones internacionales. Los factores que individual o de manera conjunta podrían afectar la calificación de manera negativa son: un incremento inesperado en la deuda y un deterioro significativo en los márgenes operativos y niveles de efectivo.

In issuing and maintaining its ratings and in making other reports (including forecast information), Fitch relies on factual information it receives from issuers and underwriters and from other sources Fitch believes to be credible. Fitch conducts a reasonable investigation of the factual information relied upon by it in accordance with its ratings methodology, and obtains reasonable verification of that information from independent sources, to the extent such sources are available for a given security or in a given jurisdiction. The manner of Fitch's factual investigation and the scope of the third-party verification it obtains will vary depending on the nature of the rated security and its issuer, the requirements and practices in the jurisdiction in which the rated security is offered and sold and/or the issuer is located, the availability and nature of relevant public information, access to the management of the issuer and its advisers, the availability of pre-existing third-party verifications such as audit reports, agreed upon procedures letters, appraisals, actuarial reports, engineering reports, legal opinions and other reports provided by third parties, the availability of independent and competent third-party verification sources with respect to the particular security or in the particular jurisdiction of the issuer, and a variety of other factors. Users of Fitch's ratings and reports should understand that neither an enhanced factual investigation nor any third-party verification can ensure that all of the information Fitch relies on in connection with a rating or a report will be accurate and complete. Ultimately, the issuer and its advisers are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide to Fitch and to the market in offering documents and other reports. In issuing its ratings and its reports, Fitch must rely on the work of experts, including independent auditors with respect to financial statements and attorneys with respect to legal and tax matters. Further, ratings and forecasts of financial and other information are inherently forward-looking and embody assumptions and predictions about future events that by their nature cannot be verified as facts. As a result, despite any verification of current facts, ratings and forecasts can be affected by future events or conditions that were not anticipated at the time a rating or forecast was issued or affirmed.

A Fitch rating is an opinion as to the creditworthiness of a security. This opinion and reports made by Fitch are based on established criteria and methodologies that Fitch is continuously evaluating and updating. Therefore, ratings and reports are the collective work product of Fitch and no individual, or group of individuals, is solely responsible for a rating or a report. The rating does not address the risk of loss due to risks other than credit risk, unless such risk is specifically mentioned. Fitch is not engaged in the offer or sale of any security. All Fitch reports have shared authorship. Individuals identified in a Fitch report were involved in, but are not solely responsible for, the opinions stated therein. The individuals are named for contact purposes only. A report providing a Fitch rating is neither a prospectus nor a substitute for the information assembled, verified and presented to investors by the issuer and its agents in connection with the sale of the securities. Ratings may be changed or withdrawn at any time for any reason in the sole discretion of Fitch. Fitch does not provide investment advice of any sort. Ratings are not a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold any security. Ratings do not comment on the adequacy of market price, the suitability of any security for a particular investor, or the tax-exempt nature or taxability of payments made in respect to any security. Fitch receives fees from issuers, insurers, guarantors, other obligors, and underwriters for rating securities. Such fees generally vary from US$1,000 to US$750,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent) per issue. In certain cases, Fitch will rate all or a number of issues issued by a particular issuer, or insured or guaranteed by a particular insurer or guarantor, for a single annual fee.

Such fees are expected to vary from US$10,000 to US$1,500,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent). The assignment, publication, or dissemination of a rating by Fitch shall not constitute a consent by Fitch to use its name as an expert in connection with any registration statement filed under the United States securities laws, the Financial Services and Markets Act of 2000 of the United Kingdom, or the securities laws of any particular jurisdiction.
